DETAILED ACTION

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract uses improper language such as "said". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Note: Although applicants amendment dated 3/6/2006 states that a new abstract has been provided, no such abstract has been received or entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ossendorf '569. Ossendorf discloses a roll stand containing all of the claimed limitations including, with respect to claim 4, chocks (6), bending blocks (8, 9, 16 and 17), mill housing (7), piston cylinder (15), a vertical positioning mechanism (18) where it is considered that the shaft of the piston is eccentric to some portion of the device structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ossendorf '569 in view of Willeke et al '739. For purposes of claim 1, Ossendorf discloses a roll stand having chocks (6), bending blocks (8, 9, 16 and 17), mill housing (7), piston cylinder (15). The structural features of claim 3 are shown in figure 1 as piston 15.

Ossendorf fails to teach a vertical positioning mechanism being assigned to one set of bending blocks and configured as a spindle-type lifting gear unit as required by claim 1. However, Willeke discloses a device like that of Ossendorf which teaches that it is known to provide a vertical positioning mechanism configured as a spindle type lifting gear (15, 16) which are assigned to opposite sides of the device (figure 1). Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to have included the spindle type mechanism of Willeke in the device of Ossendorf for the purpose of acting as a screw down for the backing rolls.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 3/6/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that there is no disclosure in the examiner cited references of the vertical positioning mechanism as currently claimed. In response the examiner disagrees and directs applicants attention to the above rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
